Visa Requirements

There are no visa requirements for visitors from most countries. However, we recommend that you contact the Czech Embassy in your country to determinate your personal status.

Invitation Letter

An official invitation letter can be sent on request. This letter, however, does not grant any financial support.

Transportation

Frequent flights are available from most European cities as well as from Asia, US, Canada and Australia. The Vaclav Havel Prague Airport is located about 30 minutes away from the centre of the city and can be easily reached either by Bus, or by Taxi. Prague is well reached by many international Trans, and Buses Lines, too.

Local Transport

Prague has a comprehensive network of the city transportation, consisting of Subway (Metro), Trams, and Buses. Tickets are available at every metro station, information boxes, or at newspaper stands.

Climate and Clothing

May is a typical spring month. The sun rises high above the horizon and the temperature climbs well above +20° C. Unfortunately, the weather is not permanent in Prague in May, on the contrary it is characterized by high variability. May 2019 should be slightly above average, and precipitously again below average.

Casual dress may be worn at the meeting and social events.

Voltage

The electric current used in the Czech Republic is 220 V.

Insurance

The PEML Organizing Committee will not take any liability for personal injuries or loss or damage of property belonging to participants or accompanying persóna. Please check your insurance.

Tipping

A service charge is very rarely included in bills. You will be expected to give 5-10% in restaurants. Hotel porters, guides and drivers expect some loose change.

Emergencies

Dial 155 (EMS), 158 (Police), or 150 (Fire), free of charge. You can also dial the universal emergency number valid in the EU 112

See you in Prague soon.
